Relationship

friends help each other. They help each other when they get hurt. They play with each other. They keep each other safe. They share their toys with them.

they do stuff with each other. they are nice to each other. they love them as a friend.

they don't care about there style. they talk with each other.

They don't keep secrets to there self sometimes. They trust each other. they grab a bandage if there bleeding. they understand each other. they don't care what language they speak.

because they respect each other. they care about each other. they look out for each other.

they don't care if they get in to a fight they are still friends.

they accept each other for who they are. they always forgive each other.

they don't judge each other.
